1955 INTRODUCTIONS

NED SEYMOUR

CHEROKEE BEAUTY (Ricks-Dahl 86A), FD, M, Bloom 10 x 6, Bush 3½ ft.

An outstanding Formal Decorative of a pleasing begonia pink. Clearer and more intense pink than Kelvin. Has distinctive foliage and is a wonderful propagator of green plants. Naturally a vigorous grower and does best in regular garden culture. Extra feeding tends to make the stems shorter. Side pruning gives good stems on first flowers and lateral blooms will take care of themselves. So unusual in color and size you won't want to miss it. Certified at East Lansing and Cincinnati Trial Grounds and on all 4 Honor Rolls, and Webb's Eastern Review.

NOTICE

All bi-color and variegated varieties listed throughout the catalog have the tendency to throw bud sports reverting to solid color blooms, usually of the darker color. (A red and white bi-color may be solid red.) At times variegated dahlias will produce blooms of blended colors as well as solid colors. These bud sports sometimes only effect one branch of the plant.

They may continue the same the next season. Usually some of the divisions from the clump revert back to the variegated or bi-color type, however.

Therefore, we cannot guarantee bi-color and variegated dahlias other than explained above.

ORIGINATORS AND INTRODUCERS of Dahlias are indicated by abbreviated names directly following the name of the dahlia. Table of Abbreviations will be found on Page 48. The first name is that of the originator, the second the introducer. A single name only means the originator is also the introducer. Foreign Dahlias in most cases just have the country indicated. The score following the originator's name is compiled in accordance with the Score Sheet found on Page 28. A dahlia must score 85 to be certified. We seldom keep a variety falling below 84, while few dahlias score over 86. Therefore many varieties carry the approval score of 85.

DAHLIADEL CULTURAL INSTRUCTIONS

by Warren W. Maytrott

POTASH-FED DAHLIAS

We have had so many requests for our old instructions, often termed the "Dahlia Grower's Bible", that we have rewritten them adding the newer ideas of storage and all the minute details regarding pests and their control together with what we have learned through the years about fertilizing and growing.

"POTASH-FED DAHLIAS" is not only an established trade name, but a modern and successful method of growing dahlias so that they are literally alive with energy, assuring you of cultural success. In South Jersey, with its long growing season, well-ripened stock can be produced that will give the best possible results. We have found that dahlias grown in the lighter soils for a period of from one to three years will do wonderfully well when moved to heavier soil conditions with no time lost for acclimation.

Most important of all is the health of stock from which your plants, pot roots or roots were grown. This condition has its direct effect on the results obtained; for an unhealthy plant cannot take up potash, or any other element of plant food, in sufficient quantities while in this condition. Hence, a dahlia must be healthy before it can be Potash-Fed. You must have the best stock that can be produced to have 100% success. Buying inferior stock at low cost is not an economical way to buy and seldom is the way to success.

CULTURAL INSTRUCTIONS

The following directions are based upon years of experience and should be of value in solving many of your cultural problems. These suggestions should be changed to suit local conditions. However, we sincerely believe that the fundamental principles involved will apply throughout the country.

SOIL PREPARATION

The dahlia will grow and produce excellent results in a wide range of soils, other conditions being favorable. It is not so much a matter of soil type as it is conditioning. To grow exhibition blooms to perfection, the nearer soil can be to ideal the better your results will be. Soil should contain enough clay to keep the fertility from leaching and also enough sand or stones to facilitate drainage. Fifty to sixty-five percent sand is considered ideal.

DRAINAGE. The primary factor in growing dahlias is that of drainage, which in sandy soils is well taken care of, but in heavy soils a quantity of coarse coal ashes should be dug in and thoroughly mixed with the subsoil. Then coarse manure, straw or litter should be mixed into the top-soil. The addition of a good quantity of coarse sand will help drainage and aeration wonderfully in compact or clayey soil.

For soggy soil we might suggest ditching 18 or more inches deep where the row is to be planted, running the ditch with the slope if possible. Fill in with coarse ashes, clinkers or any coarse material that will not rot, keeping it below spading depth, then fill in top with soil mixed with sand or the part of hard coal ashes about the size of corn or a little larger.

LIMING. As a rule, the dahlia does well in a neutral to slightly acid soil. Liming not only neutralizes acid, but makes the natural humus in the soil available as well as loosening heavy soil. Should your soil be inclined to acid, ground limestone applied at the rate of 3 to 5 lbs. to each 100 square feet is a safe practice on medium to heavy soil every 3 or 4 years. However, a pH test is advisable.

Where winters are severe, sow rye or rye grass in late September or October. The green crop will do no harm during the late blooming season, will winter over, and should be turned under about two weeks before planting. In New Jersey and further south, rye or rye grass can be sowed after digging roots. A cover crop will add organic matter, supply humus and further adjust soil conditions. Fall fertilizing. If soil is on the poor side a top dressing of fresh or composted cow, stable or even chicken manure after digging roots in the fall or early winter will certainly improve growth the following year. Chicken manure, however, should be used very sparingly. The above top dressing can be used if no cover is planted, adding to it

4 lbs. Super Phosphate.

1 lb. Muriate or Sulphate of Potash for each 100 square feet and working the top-soil over enough to keep the manure and chemicals from being washed away.

A good time to work or spade over the soil, when no cover crop was planted, is about a month before planting, digging rather deep and thoroughly breaking up all lumps. Then rake the ground over about once a week to retain moisture.

FERTILIZER

Of the ten elements considered absolutely necessary to plant growth, we find nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium the prime essentials and the ones usually most lacking. However, deficiencies in some of the minor elements may upset your plant growth materially.

NITROGEN stimulates growth above ground, producing large bushes with dark green foliage and large flowers, while lack of sufficient nitrogen will produce a poor general growth. Excessive use of nitrogen from any source, especially without the balancing of phosphorus and potash, will produce large soft bushes and blooms with weak stems and a very poor root crop to keep over winter. The common source of nitrogen is humus (decomposed vegetable matter or manure). It can be supplied in dry or fresh cow or sheep manure, bone meal, dried blood or fish scrap, or in commercial fertilizers.

PHOSPHORUS is very essential in plant growth as it strengthens the plant in general, stiffens the stems and adds substance to the foliage and blooms. It increases root development, especially the lateral and fibrous roots, and aids in ripening the roots. Phosphorus along with potash helps overcome ill effects of excessive nitrogen. The common sources are super-phosphate and bone meal.

POTASH is the balancing agent for nitrogen and phosphorus. It gives color to the flowers and foliage, and vigor and tone to the plant in general. It is an essential in starch formation and aids in the maturing of well-nourished roots. This is found in wood ashes, muriate or sulphate of potash.

SPRING FERTILIZING. When super-phosphate, potash and manure are used as a top dresser as recommended under Fall Fertilizing no further fertilizing is necessary until after planting.

With no fall soil preparation, apply broadcast before spading, 4 lbs. super-phosphate or 5 lbs. bone meal along with 1 lb. muriate or sulphate of potash or recommended substitutes to each 100 square feet. The above should be completed 2 or more weeks ahead of planting.

SUMMER FERTILIZER OR TOP DRESSING to be applied between July 15 and August 1st. Scatter evenly around the plant, not nearer than 8 inches or more than 18 inches from the stalk, a good general crop or potato fertilizer analyzing

5-10-10 for the average light soil or

5-10-5 for heavy soil naturally good in potash at the rate of 1/4 lb. per hill, or you can make your own top dressing as follows for each 10 hills:

2 lbs. Bone Meal

5 lbs. Dry Cow or Sheep Manure

1/2 lb. Muriate or Sulphate of Potash.

(Substitute for Potash 5 lbs. hard wood ashes that has been kept dry until being spread on soil.)

PLANTING

WHERE TO PLANT. In selecting a location for dahlias, it is essential to have a free circulation of air for healthy plant growth and to prevent mildew. Dahlias need direct sunlight at least 3 or 4 hours, preferable 6 to 7 hours, each day and should not be planted near large trees or dense shrubbery which would shade the plants and use moisture and plant-food.

WHEN TO PLANT. Should you desire a mass of color for landscape effect or a number of smaller blooms to cut, early planting is recommended. For exhibition blooms later planting is advisable, unless you intend to cut back, prune and disbud systematically.

Dahlias should be planted in Southern New England, Southern New York State, Pennsylvania and North Jersey between May 15th and June 15th, while in South Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and interior States of the same latitude the planting period extends from May 1st to July 1st; North Carolina from April 15th on, South Carolina and Georgia from April 1st on, advancing through Florida to January in the citrus fruit belt. Farther north, where hot summers are less harmful and early frosts are prevalent, planting may commence as soon as danger of frost is over. In the northern parts of the United States and Canada we recommend starting dahlia roots, pot roots or plants in a cold frame in pots or in squares of inverted sod, so they can be planted in your garden without disturbing the feed roots. When plants or stalks get to be 6 inches high they should be topped back, leaving preferably two nodes above the ground, see P on Drawing X. When green plants are grown in 2 to 2 1/2-inch pots, as soon as a good root growth is developed they should be re-potted in 3 to 4-inch pots and topped out at time of re-potting.

HOW TO PLANT. When planting large flowering dahlias, the rows should be from 4 to 5 feet apart, or from 6 to 10 square feet should be allowed for each plant. A novel way to plant is to place your stakes 4 x 5 feet apart, and plant a root, pot root or plant at each side of the stake so that stalk will be about 2 inches from stake. This will allow better air condition and more room for cultivation. Varieties will not mix in growing them together and should one plant fail, there will be no blank spaces. However, care should be exercised in not planting a strong rapid grower at the same stake with a slow or dwarf growing variety. Bush heights should be about equal.

Do not plant roots, pot roots or plants in or over hot manure or any quantity of compost or fertilizer. Although practiced by some, we do not recommend the use of any dahlia fertilizer or bone meal in the hole directly under, or where it will contact the dahlia root, pot root or plant, as there is too much danger of injuring the tender feed roots. However, you can use old compost with bone meal and wood ashes or recommended substitutes used in moderation when kept deep enough so root, pot root or plant can be planted above it in regular garden soil. These holes should be prepared at least 2 weeks ahead of planting so chemicals are diluted and there is no danger of heating or burning. We strongly suggest a broadcast application, as recommended above under Spring Fertilizing. The stunt in dahlia plants can often be traced to the burning of the feed roots caused by excessive chemical feeding.

ROOTS should be planted in trenches or furrows 5 inches deep laid flat down (not on end) and covered with earth 2 to 3 inches in depth where drainage is good, filling in as the plant develops. Where drainage is poor, keep a furrow open between rows to facilitate drainage in wet weather, or cover sufficiently so that water will not stand in the vicinity of the root.

Where roots are planted in holes in heavy soil and drainage is poor, fill the hole completely so it will not become a basin in heavy rains and rot the root. Dahlias do not like wet feet. Rake top-soil loose before it bakes after a rain so sprouts can come through easily.

POT ROOTS should be planted as you would roots. Do not divide the small clumps and preferably allow only one stalk to grow, never more than two. Pot roots and plants are especially desirable where the growing season is short, or where dahlias are to be used in beds following early flowering bulbs. They may be potted in 3-inch or 4-inch pots and well-started before planting.

ROOTED CUTTINGS should be ordered for delivery 15 to 20 days earlier than plants, and you should have a cold frame, sufficient 2¼-inch to 3-inch pots and suitable potting soil along with some knowledge of their care. We follow through the behavior of Dahliadel root divisions, pot roots and green plants but on rooted cuttings we can only guarantee delivery in good condition and to be true to name because the care and attention given a plant from potting to hardening off for planting out is the making or breaking of the vitality of your stock, and this responsibility of necessity is yours.

When rooted cuttings are received, wax paper wrappings and moss should be removed. Cuttings should be potted at once in 2¼-inch to 3-inch pots or Veneer Bands. Water well and place in partially shaded sunlight for 3 days, then less protected for 3 more days and then full sunshine. Avoid drafts first few days. Slats, onion bag material or thin muslin make a good shading. After a week, handle them as recommended for green plants.

GREEN PLANTS. Unwrap plant and remove moss, then moisten ball of dirt by submerging in water momentarily. Then remove paper pot, and plant with the top of the ball of dirt about 3 inches below the ground level and cover the top of the ball of dirt ½ to 1 inch. In locations where there is danger of flooding or poor drainage, do not plant quite this deep. Water thoroughly once if ground is dry and then protect with open basket or open crate for a few days as partial protection from the sun and wind, covering only when protection is needed. Then start cultivating. Fill in gradually as the plant develops. For cut worms, scatter poison bait the evening of planting. See Cutworms.

Follow directions How To Plant and in addition where dahlia plants are to be set in heavy soil, it is advisable to at least prepare the hill by mixing sand or coal ashes, screened to about the size of corn, into the ground where the plant is to be set. We do not recommend washing all the soil from the roots before planting. Plants will make better bushes and clumps in heavy soil if hills are prepared, as above, but it is not at all necessary in light soil.

It is best to set plants without topping back to get feed roots started especially when they have been shipped a distance. After the plants have established themselves you can top back with safety.

Where dahlia plants are grown with only a reasonable amount of fertilizer and water, they usually make better roots than when grown in the midst of plenty. To produce roots on plants, use a balanced plant food, as recommended under Fertilizer, but not to excess, and water only when necessary to produce a good, healthy, but not soft growth. When setting plants the last of June for September blooms, we recommend disbudding, according to Drawings X, Y and Z. When planting a month earlier it will be necessary to cut the fast growing varieties back severely about six weeks before you want blooms, leaving about one-half the growth and not more than six laterals for the first blooms. Then disbud these as shown on Drawings X or Y, as soon as branches develop sufficiently. This cutting back will give the plant an over supply of feed roots, which will start root production at once, giving you more mature roots in the Fall.

In growing Dahliadel green plants, only the strongest cuttings are potted, and again the best plants are selected for filling orders. This assures you of the best stock procurable.

CULTIVATION

By cultivating at least once a week, twice a week preferably in the early season, and as soon after rain or irrigating as the ground can be worked without getting lumpy, the weeds will be held in check and a soil mulch formed which will conserve the moisture and lessen the need of irrigation.

As the plant develops and the feed roots come toward the surface, the ground should be worked rather shallow around the hills for the radius of at least a foot. Still work the balance of the ground rather deep and bring some fresh soil to the plant with each cultivation, giving the plant a new supply of plant food and protecting the surface roots from the heat of the sun. Have the hills mounded 3 to 4 inches by the middle of September. This will help support the stalks and protect the roots from freezing should an unexpected cold spell catch you before digging. Stop all cultivation between the middle of August and September 1st.

These drawings are made with the hope of making disbudding easier. The left side of each drawing shows half of the plant disbudded, while the right side shows the normal development of branches and buds on the same plant when not disbudded.

We do not recommend disbudding the smaller type dahlias to the extent recommended below for B-MEDIUM or A-LARGE and BALL dahlias. However, partial disbudding of ORCHIDS, SINGLE, COLLARETTE, MINIATURE and POMPON dahlias will give you larger and more perfect blooms and longer stems. When the smaller type dahlias are planted early and you do not want early blooms it is best to cut back to about 6 inches above the ground about 6 to 7 weeks before you want blooms. Plug open nodes as recommended. Always leave the side shoots or branches to come into bloom.

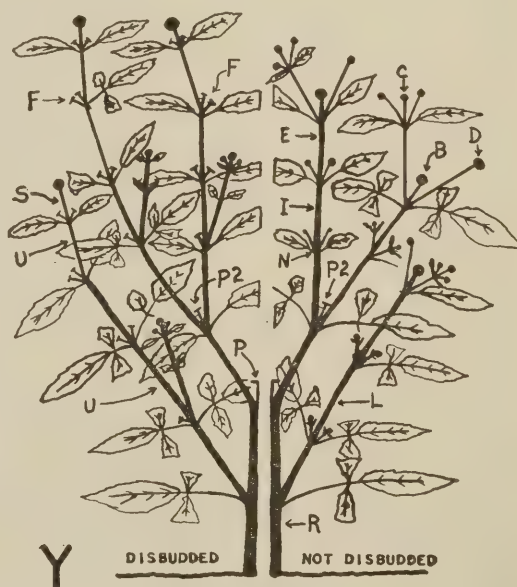

DRAWING X is recommended for most large flowering varieties with normal bush heights and length of stem.

PINCHING OUT is indicated on Drawing X and Y at P and P2, first and second pinching out, respectively. We recommend this system for B-medium and A-large dahlias. The smaller a plant is when pinched out, the quicker it will heal and branches develop.

Allow only one main stalk to grow (never more than two). Pinch out the crown or center above the second pair of leaves. The principle of taking out the center is to develop the eyes, which are located at the base of the leaves. The top pair of eyes will make themselves evident in surprisingly short time, and these shoots or branches on most varieties should be pinched back again, P2 unless they are short stemmed varieties. In that case, they should be side pruned as indicated at F in Drawing Y, leaving not more than one pair of eyes on each branch. By the time these get a start, the second or lower set of eyes on the main stalk will have developed along with those above. These stems should bear the first four to six flowers.

DISBUDDING, as indicated by T in drawings, is the pinching or rolling out of the small bud growing at the base of each leaf. These can be cut out with a pointed knife if they have developed considerably before disbudding.

When the terminal bud on each of the stems is about the size of a small acorn, or as soon as the side shoots are large enough to pull out, disbud by taking out all the side buds and shoots except the lower pair on each of the branches which should be allowed to grow to form later flowers. Leave only one side shoot as shown in Drawing X or one to two shoots on Drawing Y, should you desire very large flowers. These new branches should be handled as the previous set as soon as they have developed sufficiently.

DRAWING Y is recommended for varieties with short stems, making the foliage too close to the blooms, often termed as crotch bloomers. Disbud as indicated at F, removing B and D, and then remove two small buds from C.

All of the disbudded stem should be cut with the flower, when following X or Y. This early disbudding and pruning is not solely for the benefit of the first six flowers, but mainly to keep the bush low and properly branched for the future crop, also aiding in root development.

Should you fail to pinch out when plants are small, it will be necessary to use system shown on Drawing Z or exercise care with late topping or cutting back not to open hollow stems so that water can get in and start stem rot. These openings can be stopped up with grafting wax, plaster paris or modeling clay or capped with cellophane. Should water get into the stalk, slit the stalk just above the node with the point of a sharp knife, and by twisting the knife let the water out.

Certain varieties branch to excess. These should be thinned out at intervals of 2 weeks, and not more than six shoots allowed to come into bloom for the first flowers. This affords the plant better air circulation and sunlight. Without plenty of air and sunlight your blooms cannot be fully developed and your foliage will be easy prey to mildew.

Pinching out once is best for varieties that branch readily, while pinching out twice will prove advisable on varieties that grow main branches rapidly and develop lower branches slowly.

IRRIGATION

Water only when your dahlias show need of moisture. Thorough watering can be spread over 2 days to allow time for penetration and is far better than a number of light sprinklings. Break the surface by cultivating as soon as the ground dries sufficiently not to lump or cake when worked. Frequent sprinkling brings the feed roots to the surface where they are sickened by the heat of the sun and injured by cultivation. Watering once a week should be sufficient even in dry weather.

PESTS

APHIDS (Plant lice) are small, soft-bodied, sucking insects either light green or greyish black in color. They usually work in groups on the underside of the leaves, causing the leaves to curl. At times they work on the young stems. Aphids are common carriers of Mosaic, a virus disease and should be kept in control for this reason, if for no other.

CUCUMBER BEETLES are of two common types, the spotted having 12 black spots, and the striped having alternate black and yellow stripes. They do considerable damage eating petals of buds and flowers.

EUROPEAN CORN BORER. This is a serious pest when infestation is heavy. The adult moth of the corn borer lays its eggs in a cluster on the underside of the leaf. The first generation hatches in June, the second late in August. Contact your county agent for exact time in your location. It is important that you keep a control spray or dust on the plant during the hatching period, as the tiny borers feed on the leaf surface for a few days before boring into the stem. It is also important to keep the insecticide on the new growth as the borers enter the stem just above the leaf bracket in this new growth. As the borer develops it weakens the stem, eating through the nodes and finally the stem breaks over.

The EUROPEAN CORN BORER develops up to 1 inch in length, is a dirty white in color with two brownish streaks or stripes on its back.

All weeds, corn or dahlia stalks should be destroyed or dug under before May 1st as a control measure.

GRASSHOPPERS need no description and can be controlled by our spray recommended below.

JAPANESE BEETLES which are generally known and do considerable damage to the open blooms can be easily controlled by spraying.

LEAF-HOPPERS are larger than thrips and of a pale yellowish green color, a little over $\frac{1}{8}$ of an inch in length. They fly when the bush is touched especially during the heat of the day. These sucking insects do much to keep a plant from getting a good start. They work on the underside of the leaf causing the edges to first turn yellow, then brown. Finally the entire leaves die on the lower part of the plant.

DRAWING Z is another system which we do not recommend for our section of the country, or where there is a prolonged hot spell in the summer. However, where summers are cool, especially in the mountains, or where the seasons are short, early blooms may be grown without hurting the later crop by following Drawing Z. This system shows how disbudding without topping keeps the bush growth down to just the right height.

RED SPIDER OR SPIDER MITE are minute insects that usually work on the underside of the leaves. This gives the underside of the leaf a grey appearance, covered with a silvery web. The top of the leaf starts browning and develops into a leaf resembling cured tobacco.

These insects multiply very rapidly in dry, hot weather, spreading over an entire garden in a few days to a week's time, but they do not like cold wet weather or cold water, especially applied with pressure.

Red spider damage has been increased since the advent of DDT which destroys the parasite that normally helps control red spider. Red spider controls are of short duration while DDT control lasts about two weeks, so bear this in mind when using DDT.

TARNISH PLANT BUG is about 1/4 inch in length, brassy brown in color and marked with black and yellow with red thorax. This is quite a troublesome insect in certain sections, especially parts of the mid-west. This insect punctures the flower stem causing the buds to dry up, in some localities even dwarfing the entire bush.

THRIPS are tiny insects which in the nymph stage are greenish grey in color and very hard to see without the aid of a magnifying glass. They do considerable damage in this stage. They enter the growing leaf bud and chafe the newly formed leaves, injuring them so that they develop malformed and curled, also injuring the small flower bud and stem. These insects seem to enjoy the life blood of certain varieties on account of its flavor and do not molest the adjacent bush. If the attack is not checked the leaves will be gnarled and twisted, and the buds one-sided or so injured that they dry up and fall off. This usually results in a stunted bush, which in reality is only weakened by insect ravages.

The onion thrips in particular are the best known carriers of ring spot, making the control of thrips very important where any ring spot is present.

INSECT CONTROL

For years we have been looking for an all purpose insect control and now we feel it is here. However, it cannot be used on fruits or vegetables as it has a musty odor and imparts it to the fruit or vegetable. It is less dangerous to use than Black Leaf 40 (Sulphate of Nicotine) but precautions noted on packages should be adhered to. All of the above mentioned insects can be controlled by the following recommended spray and used at the one prescribed strength. It is, of course, much easier to control insects before there is a heavy infestation, and less damage will be done.

There are other new insecticides on the market, no doubt efficient, but we are afraid to use them and would certainly not recommend them to our customers.

RECOMMENDED INSECT CONTROL

We have obtained exceptional results, practically 100% insect control with one application of the following spray: To each gallon of water add:

- 2 heaping tablespoonfuls of TAT 50% wettable BHC
- 1/3 teaspoonful LINCK WA
- 1/3 teaspoonful TAT Hexate or Vapotone-XX.

This we feel sure will control all the troublesome insects listed above, including the European Corn Borer if spray is kept on the plant at the proper time. Use the same precaution as when spraying with nicotine sulphate: namely—wash hands immediately to remove concentrated spray material and keep away from breathing the spray by spraying with the wind.

TAT BHC contains the new outstanding chemical Benzene Hexachloride. This product acts as a contact, stomach and fumigant insecticide. It is up to 15 times as toxic to certain insects as DDT yet only 1/5 as toxic to warm blooded animals. Exceptionally effective against sucking bugs, aphids, leaf-eating insects (even killing the egg), wireworms, thrips, scale, grasshoppers, locusts and ants. It does not have the long residual effectiveness of DDT due to its fumigant action, however, this is advantageous in that it reduces the danger of any long lasting residue.

Although it has a somewhat objectionable odor, the results are so far ahead of anything else that you gladly tolerate the musty odor.

By chance we found an efficient control for both ants and yellow jackets. 1 heaping teaspoonful of BHC thrown into the entrance to the nest of yellow jackets, preferably in the early evening, will eliminate the inhabitants. For ants a teaspoonful will take care of a number of ant hills, depending on their size. Just throw it around where ants are entering the ground. BHC develops a gas heavier than air and penetrates the ground.

TAT HEXATE is a newly formulated compound containing Tetraethyl Pyrophosphate and a wetting, spreading agent. Replaces nicotine sulphate in controlling aphids; also excellent for control of plant mites (such as red spider), and other insects.

VAPOTONE—XX Spray. A new organic insecticide containing Tetraethyl Pyrophosphate. This may be substituted for TAT HEXATE in above Recommended Insect Control. It has given equal results for us and costs less money.

LINCK WA. A wetting agent recommended for low pressure spraying when using BHC with Hexate or Vapotone. The purpose of a wetting agent is to relieve the surface tension, allowing the spray to cover the insect or flow over the entire surface of the area sprayed. The proper amount of WA will vary according to how hard the water is that is used in the spray. When using the amount prescribed and spray rolls up in small drops, then reduce the quantity of WA.

CORN BORER DUST (Nicotine Bentonite Dust). 4% actual nicotine content with wetting agent added. Four to five applications should be made at five to six day intervals, starting at the time of the first eggs' hatching. Five pounds should take care of 100 to 150 dahlia bushes for four applications (size of bush will vary amount needed). Directions with each package.

Prices listed in our catalog under Dahlia Growers' Supplies.

CUT WORMS are easily controlled by scattering about a teaspoonful of poison bran bait around the plant (but not touching it) as soon as plants are set or shoots appear from roots. The early evening is the best time to apply it.

2 tablespoonfuls of molasses or brown sugar (dissolved).

1 level teaspoonful of paris green or arsenate of lead mixed in the juice of an orange or equivalent in water.

1 quart of bran or enough to make a reasonably dry mash.

MILDEW. Commonly known to most growers, it starts with grey spots on the leaves and is more prevalent in the fall. Adverse growing conditions, planting too close, poor air circulation, and extremes, are all contributing factors. Dusting sulphur applied to the underside of the leaves on its first appearance will usually control it.

STUNT, a general term, can be sub-divided as follows:

- 1st—From lowered vitality as a result of poor culture, lack of cultivation or adverse weather conditions.
- 2nd—The ravages of attacking insects, thrips, aphids, leaf-hoppers, red spiders, stem borers, etc.
- 3rd—The rotting of feed roots caused by chemical burn or soil too rich in nutrients, excessive water where drainage is poor, or water in hollow part of stalk where openings are not plugged.
- 4th—Virus disease, either mosaic or ring spot. Mosaic is best identified by the following characteristics:

The veins of the leaf become lighter than the other areas. This can be detected by looking through it toward the light. The leaves are smaller, somewhat crinkled, the inter-nodes in the top of the plant become shorter instead of longer as they would in a healthy plant. The bush practically stops growing in the top and excessive branching follows. Presence of a corn borer will also stop the growth in the top of a plant.

Aphids are the carrier for this virus.

Ring Spot is a virus usually showing up on the lower leaves in the form of a somewhat circular light green pattern or design, the edges of which are zig zag. The area within this pattern will at times turn brown.

The carrier for this virus is the thrips.

It is the best practice—First, keep aphids and thrips under control. Second, destroy stock you are sure carries a virus. Third, rid your garden of chick weed as it is a known host for ring spot.

CUT FLOWERS

Dahlia blooms should be cut in the late afternoon or early morning, removing the lower leaves and all of the buds of the large varieties, if not disbudded. Immediately put in water in a cool dark place to freshen for 4 hours or more or over night, before placing them in the house or in the show room.

HOT WATER TREATMENT. Cut and freshen as above then put stems in 1 inch of water, almost boiling, for 1 to 2 minutes, keeping bloom away from any steam. Then place in deep cold water to cool. They can, however, be given the hot water treatment immediately after cutting, then placed in cool water to harden off. Flowers are then ready to ship by packing in a strong corrugated box lined with tissue or wax paper. Pack blooms in both ends of box, face up, with stems toward the center. Fasten stems down by nailing a wooden strip in the center of the box or by tying down through the bottom. Flowers packed snugly will carry better than when packed loose and allowed to batter.

Flowers when wilted can be freshened by cutting end of stem and placing in hot water as above. If necessary to completely freshen flower, repeat this operation but cut off discolored end of stem before again placing in hot water.

The hot water treatment will do wonders in making your exhibition blooms keep fresh after staging, but do not cut off the discolored end of stem unless you are again going to treat it.

The physical action of a cut flower is to take up water into the stem which evaporates through the flower and foliage. The slower this action of evaporation or transpiration takes place, the longer the life of the flower. From this you will see that buds and excessive foliage will shorten the life of your flower. Also avoid placing cut flowers in a draft.

DIGGING AND STORING DAHLIA CLUMPS

Dahlia stalks should be cut at the ground level directly after or within a week after frost has killed the leaves and discolored most of the stalk. Then allow about a week for stalks to bleed out before digging.

Care should be exercised so that the necks of the tuberous roots will not be broken. Loosen the roots by prying with a long tined garden fork thrust in the ground about a foot from the crown, preferably all the way around, before attempting to remove clump. Two digging, one on either side of the clump, is even better.

After digging clumps, cut dahlia stalks about 2 inches above crown and allow clumps to sun or air dry for part of a day, according to amount of moisture in soil. Free most of the soil by tapping on the end of the cut stalk with a block of wood.

Line flat bushel baskets, boxes or similar containers with paper, preferably waterproof. Pack the container about half full of dahlia clumps and then pour in Horticultural Vermiculite, covering roots. If necessary, split large clumps to facilitate packing, dipping cut portions in Dahliadel Dip (one part sulphur to three parts fibrous talc). After filling container with clumps cover all roots completely with vermiculite and store in cellar, the cooler the better, as long as it is above freezing. When necessary to store in a dry, warm cellar place bushels in the coolest corner and cover with any material available that will keep the warm air in the cellar from circulating around the containers.

Should you have a root cellar with a temperature from 40° to 45°, properly ventilated, dahlia roots should not need any special covering.

To remove clumps from container, make a screen of 1/2-inch mesh wire that will fit over top of the container and by inverting container and shaking gently, practically all the vermiculite will shake out into another container. This leaves the clumps as packed.

We have found vermiculite the cleanest, handiest and most satisfactory medium in which to pack dahlia clumps or roots for winter storage.

DIVIDING CLUMPS

Dahlia clumps can best be divided with the aid of double cutting pruning shears and a pruning knife. Broken necks and fibrous roots should first be removed. The eyes are on the crown and never on the root proper. Then proceed to divide with shears or knife. Care should be exercised to have a piece of crown with at least one eye connected with each one or two roots. Then all cut portions should be dipped in Dahliadel Dip. Clumps should never be planted without dividing.

WHEN TO DIVIDE. For the amateur, clumps are better partially divided in January or February. Trim out any portions of crown or roots that show decay. On early dividing it is not advisable to cut apart to single root divisions, but rather divide a clump into two to four pieces, leaving two or more roots to a division. These can be again divided at planting time as long as you have one good eye with each root. Dip cut portions in Dahliadel Dip and repack as before. When dividing clumps, tagging each division becomes quite a chore, also these tags must be removed before planting. It is therefore less work to wet the root with a sponge or rag and mark either name or number right on the root with an indelible pencil. This will not come off when packed in vermiculite or even during a growing season in the ground. Let roots dry in air before repacking in vermiculite.

Cut sprouts back to 1/2 inch before planting.

DAHLIA CULTURE FOR FLORIDA AND PARTS OF TEXAS

Cultural instructions in general can be used with the following exceptions. Dahlias need more shade than in the north, they do well on the north side of citrus or other trees getting some morning and afternoon sun, or grown in a slat house similar to the ones used for growing asparagus fern. Fertilize about once every 4 to 6 weeks, using smaller quantities for each application than recommended under Fertilizer, as it is a longer growing season and with a porous soil 1 1/2 to 2 times the total recommended amounts can be used during the entire growing season.

Dahlias do not respond to pinching out as they do in the north and some varieties will not branch at all when pinched back, so handle your bushes according to Drawing Z.

A number of our early blooming cut flower varieties of dahlias planted the 15th of August will be in full bloom in 6 weeks and bloom for 2 or 3 months.

LANDSCAPE WITH DAHLIAS

A number of varieties are now available that lend themselves wonderfully well to landscape work. They may be grown where a mass color effect is wanted, or may even be started in pots and set out in mid-season after other plant material is through blooming.

Dwarf Dahlias were originally used in landscape planting, and they are still fine for low effects, but a number of Miniatures are more desirable, and in general easier to grow, giving higher effects suitable for central or background plantings. They are also available in a greater range of colors, and lovely in beds or border plantings.

SCORING DAHLIAS

To simplify classification to size and use of the dahlia, we have scored all varieties grown at Dahliadel according to our new field score card.

Three sizes of dahlias, as listed in A.D.S. Standard Nomenclature, may be scored with this card: M—SMALL, under 4 inches in diameter; B—MEDIUM, 4 to 8 inches; and A—LARGE, over 8 inches. Each number represents maximum points for perfection based on favorable characteristics present in flower to be scored.

To start judging we set up a minds' picture of an absolutely perfect flower of the same size, type and color classification. Then deduct for imperfections from each specific quality. Start with COLOR, then FORM, etc., using the column of figures under M for Miniature, B for 4 to 8 inches and A for over 8 inches. DISTINCTIVENESS is mainly for COLOR or FORM when distinctly different from existing varieties.

We have 2 1/2 pages of dahlias classified as BB in the front of our catalog to satisfy public demand for a medium size bloom suitable for cutting and decorating. They grow from 4 to 6 inches and are good keepers when cut. Classes are set up for this size in many Show Schedules throughout the country, and they are proving very popular. Varieties in this class are B Dahlias that do not grow over 6 inches and include overgrown Miniatures, giving you a chance to disbud and grow some really nice blooms without danger of oversize.

DAHLIADEL RECOMMENDATIONS For Exhibition or Your Garden

If you are at Dahlia del and asked me to check a list of the most satisfactory varieties of dahlias for you to grow, you would probably say you wanted varieties that are not temperamental. Then you would ask for those easy to grow, that produce plenty of flowers for good cutting; house decoration, and exhibition —oh yes, you would want some of the big ones too that will be the envy of the neighborhood. Well, here they are.

With this table of recommended varieties you can pick out the types and colors you like most. Where there is more than one, the top variety is the newer and likewise the higher priced one. Practically all of the varieties have won prizes at Shows or Trial Grounds, and will do it again if properly grown and exhibited.

They are particularly adapted for landscape planting in beds or borders as they start blooming early in the summer when about one foot high and bloom continuously until frost, growing to about 2 feet in height. These dwarf dahlias are very useful for forcing in pots indoors.

Wonderful for landscape effect when pinched out once, but should not be thinned out nor disbudded. If Collarette, Orchid Flowering and Single dahlias are cut before the pollen shows, they will hold their petals and keep for days.

E M L BLOOMING DESIGNATIONS

To make our catalog more helpful all varieties are keyed just ahead of bloom size as to the relative time they start blooming. E—early, M—medium (mid-season), L—late. By combining E M and M L we have 5 different groups. For those with a short growing season, late varieties should be avoided or started early in cold frames. With a long growing season some of the late varieties are the most satisfactory. In areas normally frost-free from early May to late October, plant the late varieties early and early varieties late and bring them into bloom nearer the same time.

Type and color classifications in this index are in accordance with the A.D.S. and C.S.D.S. Official Classification list wherever practical. All colors are based on the Dahlia del Color Chart which is official for all dahlia shows.

NOTICE—Before entering any variety in a dahlia show check with current Classification List, as these lists are changed from year to year and if we conform one year it may not conform with the next year's list.

COLORS in this Index have been changed to the A.D.S. and C.S.D.S. official classification, wherever practical. This classification is based on the Dahlia del Color Chart (see page 46).

Rooted Cuttings have proved so satisfactory for our customers, as they stand shipment so well, and produce such wonderful plants, that we have reduced the price on many varieties by selling two of a kind for 50c, where plants cost 50c. In fact all varieties of Mums except the Novelties listed on page 42 are 2 Rooted Cuttings of a kind for 50c. By selling them only in multiples of two facilitates ordering, booking and shipping, and gives you more for your money. Rooted Cuttings can be planted direct in your garden with partial protection or potted and held for a few weeks before planting.

CHRYSANthemum CULTURE

SOIL PREPARATION. You will find many helpful suggestions on Soil Preparation and Fertilizing in our Dahlia Culture which hold good for Mums with the exception that preparation of hills is not recommended. Mums will stand more manure and more water than dahlias will. Mums should never be allowed to suffer for the need of water.

Plant in well prepared ordinary garden soil 8 to 10 inches apart, in rows 15 inches apart for mass planting. Rows can be 3 to 4 feet apart for cultivating.

When plants are established in the garden and have developed 2 or 3 pairs of mature leaves the center of the main growth should be pinched out. Should you want exhibition blooms in limited numbers, then limit the number of branches to 3 or 4. For Garden Varieties, Pompons, etc., 6 or 8 stems are not too many.

When Mums are planted early and topped out as recommended we find it advantageous to again top out the center growth and main growth branches about July 15th. This will give you a more uniform growth and blooms will open at a uniform time. Spray Mums the same as recommended for Dahlias. Page 26.

JANE, Pom, 1 1/2'-2', Oct. 28. Our best yellow pompon. Identical in all respects to the greenhouse variety Nugget except that it has been perfectly hardy for us the past three years. Compact for landscaping and still nice stems for cutting.

REVERIE (Bristol 1953), Dec., 2 1/2'-1 1/2', Oct. 10. Egyptian buff with empire rose at center. Very colorful for a pastel.

SPINDRIFT (Bristol 1952), Dec., 3'-2 1/2', Oct. 10. As pure white as any mum, with creamy cast in center. Petals somewhat curled resembling a cactus dahlia.

SUPERLATIVE, English, 5'-2 1/2', Oct. 15. An excellent incurved pure white. Really huge and stunning when disbudded. Don't miss this one.

SPIDER MUMS

This new Type Chrysanthemum is becoming very popular and responds wonderfully well to disbudding. Although some varieties are only semi-hardy, they can be carried over winter with a little protection and if you are in sections where early frosts are prevalent a temporary protection made of water-proof paper sides with a sash on top and a couple of electric light bulbs inside will give the necessary protection for the early damaging frosts for Spiders and other late blooming varieties.

HARDY GARDEN CHRYSANTHEMUMS

These modern hardy mums are selected for their ability to produce quantities of blooms in general garden conditions. FOUR WAYS TO BUY POTASH-FED DAHLIAS

GREEN PLANTS

Green plants are sprouts or cuttings taken from clumps grown in especially built greenhouses; rooted in sand benches in propagating houses; potted and grown under greenhouse conditions until well established and then moved outside to cold frames for proper hardening off. When they reach you they are ready for planting.

Their care after you receive them is fully described in our Cultural Instructions.

Green plants will produce flowers equal to roots or pot roots when well grown for exhibition, but will not produce as large clumps for the following season. When properly grown from healthy stock, however, many varieties will produce nice clumps.

Dahliadel green plants are always properly grown, and, in our specially designed shipping box have been successfully sent all over the United States.

It is difficult to ship plants or rooted cuttings into the Deep South during a hot spell late in the season, so order early. State inspection slows up delivery on the West Coast but with proper timing, deliveries are not too bad.

ROOTED CUTTINGS

Rooted cuttings are sprouts or cuttings grown exactly as described under green plants (see above) up to the point where a good root system has developed. Rooted cuttings are wrapped singly or two together in live sphagnum moss on a special machine built for this work. In shipment the roots are fed moisture in live sphagnum. The leaves are in a ventilated air space. This insures the best and safest transportation. Rooted Dahlia cuttings are 1/3 less in price than plants. However, we do not recommend them unless you have had experience and are equipped to handle dahlia cuttings.

Further directions on handling rooted cuttings will be found in our Cultural Instructions.

ROOTS

Dahlia roots are divisions of field-grown clumps of dahlias. Each root must contain at least one "eye" from which the plant grows. Sturdy plants and fine exhibition flowers grow from roots, and strong clumps harvested for the following season. As the planted root acts as a food storehouse for the growing plant, the growth of the plant is thus stabilized under adverse growing conditions.

POT ROOTS

Pot roots, as shown above in relative size to the average root, should not be judged adversely because of their size. Many experienced growers prefer pot roots. Pot roots are small clumps produced by plants grown mostly in 3-inch pots in the open during the late summer, and transferred in the Fall to greenhouses where they are grown under controlled conditions, and allowed to ripen naturally by the end of December.

Pot roots will produce bushes and flowers equal to roots and in many varieties even better clumps on digging. Our customers have written us as to their fine behavior and we find them very satisfactory in every way.

DAHLIA SEED

Sow in flats or frames in early spring in light soil, cover the seed not more than one-fourth inch about the same as you would tomato seed, or better still cover seed with vermiculite. When first pair of true leaves are well developed transplant into small pots or flats and grow in cool temperature until they can be planted in the garden. Should they get too large, pinch back and shift to larger pots.

Dahlia seedlings never come true to their parentage, but do usually show some similar characteristics in form, color or bush growth. You cannot grow seedlings of a named variety and produce the same variety.

INSECTICIDES

INSECT CONTROL

Since the use of DDT much more red spider and spider mite have been prevalent on dahlias. We have used DDT, nicotine sulphate, rotenone, and pyrethrum in a spray with fair results. Have used DDT with Hexate with fairly good results but we could not recommend either of these sprays to our customers as they gave only a partial control.

RECOMMENDED INSECT CONTROL

(See Cultural Instructions)

We have obtained exceptional results, practically 100% insect control with one application of the following spray: To each gallon of water add:

2 heaping tablespoonfuls of TAT 50% wettable BHC

⅓ teaspoonful LINCK WA

⅓ teaspoonful TAT Hexate or Vapotone-XX.

Use the same precaution as when spraying with nicotine sulphate.

TAT BHC contains the new outstanding chemical Benzene Hexachloride. 1½ lbs. BHC, $1.75 to 4th zone. Add 5c for each additional zone. 5 lbs. BHC, $5.00 to 4th zone. Add 15c for each additional zone.

Although it has a somewhat objectionable odor, the results are so far ahead of anything else that you gladly tolerate the musty odor.

TAT HEXATE is a newly formulated compound containing Tetraethyl Pyrophosphate and a wetting, spreading agent. Replaces nicotine sulphate in controlling aphids; also excellent for control of plant mites (such as red spider), and other insects. 6 oz. bottle Hexate, $2.00.

VAPOTONE-XX SPRAY. A new organic insecticide containing Tetraethyl Pyrophosphate. This may be substituted for TAT HEXATE in above Recommended Insect Control. Although a lower analysis, it has given equal results for us and costs less money. 4 oz., $1.15; 16 oz., $3.00.

IMPROVED ISOTEX GARDEN SPRAY M. In addition to Lindane, now contains two amazing new insecticides, Malathion and DDD, which give you control over practically every garden insect. 4 oz., $1.15; 8 oz., $2.00.

LINCK WA. A superior wetting agent when using low pressure for spraying. 6 oz. bottle, 50c; 16 oz. bottle, $1.00.

CORN BORER DUST (Nicotine Bentonite Dust). 4% actual nicotine content with wetting agent added. Four to five applications should be made at five to six day intervals, starting at the time of the first eggs' hatching. Five pounds should take care of 100 to 150 dahlia bushes for four applications (size of bush will vary amount needed). Directions with each package. 5 lbs. to 4th zone, $2.50; add 15c for each zone beyond 4th; 25 lbs., express collect, $7.50.
